

NSSDMC 2014 announced

Conference to be held in Lake Buena Vista, Fla.

The 2014 National Social Services and Disaster Management Conference—“The Power of One Army, Transforming Our World”—is slated for March 25-28 in Lake Buena Vista, Fla.

The biennial gathering is a meeting of representatives from Salvation Army social and disaster services programming in North America, including front line social workers, case managers, teachers, counselors and corps officers.

The conference will feature exhibits, workshops, institutes, keynote sessions and forums on hot topics impacting Salvation Army stakeholders with an objective to network, share best practices, spread innovative ideas and identify trends in social work and disaster management.
